15 A Taxonomy and Evaluation of Dense Two-Frame Stereo Correspondence Algorithms
